

MOLINEUX WILL TAKE THE STAND.

Prisoner to Gratify His Father's Wish and Give Testimony to Vindicate Himself from the Charge of Murder.

OSBORNE IS NOT PLEASED.

Chief Prosecutor, Worried by Frequent Adverse Rulings of Justice Lambert, Calls on Jerome to Help Combat Mr. Black.

BLACK SAYS STATE HAS MADE NO CASE.

Ex-Gov. Black said to-day in speaking of the Molineux murder trial:

"Molineux is willing and ready to go on the witness stand, but it may not be necessary. The people's case is all in now, and Mr. Osborne has failed to connect Molineux with the crime. The calling of handwriting experts amounts to little. They may call 200 if they like. Yesterday was a grand day for the defense."

Edmund B. Molineux will go on the witness stand in his own behalf. This much has been decided upon by his attorneys, who are agreed that, unlike the first trial, a defense shall be made and as strong a one as possible at that.

This, it is said, is due greatly to the desire of Gen. Molineux, who insists that he wishes vindication as well as acquittal for his son. He insists that when the latter walks out of the courtroom a free man, if such should be the result, there may be no doubt of the defendant's innocence. He said to-day that he did not wish the case ruled out even if it appeared that the prosecution had not established a case.

He added that he wanted it fought to a finish.

Osborne Not Pleased.

It is evident that Assistant District Attorney Osborne is not pleased with the progress which has been made by the State. He has been repeatedly staggered by the ruling out of testimony by Judge Lambert, and as a result has agreed to depart for the East Liberty station of the Pennsylvania Railroad to begin their trial tour did the revenge on the practical joker begin.

Handbills had been distributed throughout the neighborhood announcing that a circus procession would pass along a certain route at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. A crowd of 1,000 people had gathered when Mr. Dimling and his bride left the house, expecting to get into a cab.

Hinges on Handwriting.

This being admitted, it will remain for the prosecution to prove that they were written by Molineux.

Failing in this it is conceded in court that the jury would probably favor acquittal. It is known that Mr. Osborne will make every effort to prove by experts that the handwriting was that of Molineux, but to offset this the defense will introduce expert testimony in rebuttal. The defense has also stated that it will remain for the jurors to decide which experts are to be believed.

POLICE HAVE TEA PARTY.

Many Stolen Chests Piled in the Madison Street Station.

Five thousand dollars' worth of tea in chests was piled in the Madison Street Police Station last night. It was taken from the junk shop of Thomas Murphy, No. 28 Front street, Brooklyn, who was arrested. It is charged that the tea was stolen.

The tea came into port day before yesterday on the freighter Brower. It was consigned to Frank Golding, of No. 43 Fifth avenue, Brooklyn. Soon after the steamer put in at Pier 38, East River, two men drove up and asked about the tea, claiming to be representatives of the consignee. They piled it into wagons and carted it off.

The tea was traced to the junk shop in Brooklyn, and Murphy was arrested. Wagons were procured and the tea put aboard to be carried to the station house. It was ferried across to New York, and all night long policemen were busy tugging at it.

Lady Bache Coming Over.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Among the passengers booked to sail for New York on the Cunard line steamer Campania from Liverpool to-day are Lady Bache Curzon, who was Miss Maud Burke, of Chicago, and John V. Farwell, of Chicago.

JOKERS PURSUE WALDORF BRIDE.

Old Victims of George A. Dimling, of Pittsburgh, Make Life a Burden for Wife Here on Honeymoon.

OVERRUN WITH "PRESENTS."

Put Them in a Cage When They Started Away and Burned Red Lights as They Passed Through Throngs in the Streets.

Ever since Thursday morning a weird array of pots, pans, kettles, wash boilers, articles of china ware, wooden bowls, brooms, stoves and similar pieces of household furniture have been arriving at Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Dimling.

The articles have arrived unpacked and have caused more embarrassment to a bride couple from Pittsburgh than anything that has happened to them since they left home Wednesday night— which was plenty, by the way.

These shipments of household goods are part of a plot to get even with a practical joker. Dimling for many years was the Bryan G. Hughes of Pittsburgh. He had a wide acquaintance and his friends were in his water all the time because of his predilection for putting them into ridiculous situations.

Especially strong was Mr. Dimling at weddings. He never failed to decorate the bridal carriage with old shoes, to the ribbons of white satin to the trunk, walk through the train with a megaphone proclaiming to the passengers that there was a bridal couple aboard, to send telegrams ahead warning station agents, train hands, hotel clerks and others to look out for the newly married couple from Pittsburgh.

Time to Even Scores.

At last it came time for Mr. Dimling to be married. The event came off Wednesday night at the home of his bride, Miss Wilhelmina Morgan, No. 721 Hamilton avenue, Pittsburgh. Friends who had felt the sting of Mr. Dimling's practical jokes for years arranged to get even with him.

Mr. Dimling is a millionaire, and the wedding was in keeping with his wealth and the social prominence of the bride. It passed off without a hitch. Not until the young couple were ready to depart for the East Liberty station of the Pennsylvania Railroad to begin their trial tour did the revenge on the practical joker begin.

Handbills had been distributed throughout the neighborhood announcing that a circus procession would pass along a certain route at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. A crowd of 1,000 people had gathered when Mr. Dimling and his bride left the house, expecting to get into a cab.

Instead they were hustled into an express wagon on which a big cage had been constructed. Into this cage they were forced, the door was locked, red fire was burned, a band appeared and the strangest bridal procession that ever appeared in Pittsburgh wound its way through the streets of the city.

Advertisement No. 12.

The parade had been advertised as an exhibition of a "mad bridal couple" and it was no lie. Mr. Dimling and his wife were as mad as they could be, nor was their anger decreased when the jokers supplied the passengers on the train with all the details of the marriage, together with tin horns, packages of punk and red fire.

As soon as Mr. Dimling and his bride left Pittsburgh the following telegram arrived in a remote part of the State. It was sent to every hotel along the route of their proposed bridal tour.

"Everybody look out for Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dimling, married last night in Pittsburgh, Pa. Will arrive on the Pittsburgh limited Thursday morning, Oct. 23, 1902.

"Description—He—5 feet 7 inches in height; weighs about 175 pounds; dressed in blue checked suit, tan or gray gloves, patent leather shoes; Goo-Goo eyes and Happy Hooligan smile.

"She—Slender; medium tall; hair halfway between auburn and brunette; dreamy eyes; will wear a dark blue hat, trimmed with grape clusters, and dark blue dress.

"P. S.—Help them along.

MINE-OWNER MURDERED.

Wealthy Man Killed in Mexico, Presumably for His Money.

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Oct. 25.—Felipe Nessler, a wealthy American mine owner, has been killed at his mines in a remote part of the State. His real name is said to have been Charles Walker and he is reported to have come from St. Louis. He lived alone. He is supposed to have been killed for his money.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Healing, Blisters, Bleeding and Painful Piles, cure, no pay. All druggists are authorized by the manufacturers of Pile Ointment to refund the money where it fails to cure any case of piles, no matter how long standing. Cures ordinary cases in six days; the worst cases in fourteen days. One application gives ease and rest. Relieves itching instantly. This is a new discovery, and it is the only pile remedy sold on a positive guarantee, no cure, no pay. Price 50c.

JOKERS START BRIDAL PAIR ON HONEYMOON IN ANIMAL CAGE AS PART OF PARADE.

IMPRISONED CAT CALLS OUT POLICE.

"Tom" Was Scratching Under a Box and Every One Was Sure that Burglars Were at Hand.

"Tom" is a cat. He is used to the freedom of the city, and when he was imprisoned under a box in the rear of the flat building at No. 71 East Seventh street he objected to the confinement.

There were things going on in the world, and he longed to be with the crowd. So Tom scratched away with all his might at the side of the box.

Since a man named Everhart was murdered by a burglar in that neighborhood three years ago the people have been nervous. The slightest sound will cause a search, and a gunshot is enough to throw the neighborhood into a panic. So when Tom scratched on the box it frightened two young men in the building.

Half-dressed, they rushed into the East Fifth street police station, where they told Sgt. Brown a burglar was trying to force an entrance to the house. While they were going with Policeman Sahn to the scene they told him such stories of filing and hammering they had heard that Policemen Pollock and Schneider were called into service.

A thorough search of the place revealed nothing, and just as the police were leaving some man on St. Mark's place evidently took the officers for burglars and blazed away with a revolver, six shots ringing out. Luckily, none took effect, but they served to arouse the whole neighborhood.

Startled faces emerged from windows, while a second report to the station-house brought a detail of eight more policemen. They were surrounding the house when Dr. Zitzer, of No. 22 St. Mark's place, telephoned Police Headquarters. From this source the East Fifth street station again heard of the trouble, and every available policeman in the precinct was sent to the scene.

When the panic subsided and the police gathered together for a consultation the scratching began again. While the house was surrounded two policemen went to the rear and traced the sound to a box in the backyard. With due caution they raised it from the ground and Tom scampered away to join his friends.

SUICIDE KNELT IN PRAYER.

Then Leaped Before Engine of a Swiftly Moving Freight.

WINSTED, Conn., Oct. 23.—Kneeling beside the railroad track and peering up into the eyes of the engineer of a rapidly approaching freight train on the Naugatuck division of the New Haven Railroad, Joseph Hickey, fifty-five, a dependent carpenter, whose home was in Terryville, threw himself in front of the train at the Hinch Cliff bridge, between Waterville and Reynolds Bridge, late yesterday afternoon. Death was probably instantaneous.

BISHOP VAUGHAN DEAD.

Uncle of England's Cardinal Expires at Newton Abbey.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Right Rev. William Vaughan, D. D., Bishop of Plymouth, died this morning at Newton Abbey, Devonshire. Dr. Vaughan was an uncle of Cardinal Vaughan. He was born in 1814.

MR. SAGE'S LOANS ARE $25,000,000

Financier's Prolonged Illness Brings to Light the Enormous Amount of Cash He Has Out on Collateral.

GREATER THAN MOST BANKS.

The prolonged illness of Russell Sage and the new form of note which has been sent out among his borrowers, alleging them to pay off their indebtedness and get back their collateral through his agents in case of his death, has set Wall street talking about the immense sums of cash which the aged financier has constantly loaned in the street.

If the money which he has out were suddenly to be withdrawn from the money market, a pinch would follow which might cause one of the most disastrous panics in the history of the country. Certainly, the effect of such a move would be felt seriously in every financial center in the world.

Conservative estimates by bankers of the amount of cash which Mr. Sage has out on collateral at all times puts the sum at $25,000,000. In times of stringency, when the rates are unusually tempting, $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 is added to this enormous sum. Even if he gets but 5 per cent. on the amount which he ordinarily loans his income from this source alone would be $1,250,000.

As his investments in gilt-edged securities bring him at least twice as much more than $100,000, he is by all odds the greatest individual money lender in the world and few banks in this country have out more cash than he.

JERSEY PRODUCES HUMAN BAROMETER

New Brunswick Boy Bares His Arm and Tells You Whether It Will Rain.

THREE BOYS IN STORE BURGLARY.

Police Get One of Them, Feigning Sleep, in a Hallway and Are After the Others.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 25.—New Jersey's reputation no longer rests upon "Scandy Bill" Quinn and her big pumpkins. A human barometer has been added to her list of strange and curious possessions. Frank Farley, of this place, is the barometer, and he has already made good his claim to the title. He does it with his arm.

Whenever he is asked what the weather is to be he bares his arm to the elbow, raises it above his head, crosses his fingers and says "Rain" or "Clear," as the case may be. His predictions are nearly always verified. So great has become his reputation that he is now sought out by farmers and business men, who pay him for his information.

Farley is a messenger boy and only fourteen. He has a shrewd, alert look and is noted for his modesty. His power to predict the weather, he says, is inherited and he takes no credit to himself.

ROOSEVELT HAS PANAMA REPORT.

Text of Attorney-General Knox's Canal Treaty Findings Will To-Day Be Made Public.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Attorney-General Knox made his report upon the validity of the title of the Panama Canal to President Roosevelt to-day. It was announced that the report was very exhaustive and covered about 300 pages. A synopsis is to be made public to-day. Attorney-General Knox, who took the report in person to the White House, declined to give any intimation of its character in advance.

Non-action on the part of the Government of Colombia in the pending Isthmian Canal treaty is postponing the appointment of the Commission which is to take charge of the construction of the canal. It was at first supposed that as soon as the Attorney-General had satisfied himself of the sufficiency of the title to the canal property that could be conveyed by the French Government the way would be clear for the appointment of the Commission, and soon after for the preparation of the specifications upon which the work is to be done. This was upon the assumption that the agreement upon the outlines of the treaty with the canal company reached in Washington between the Secretary of State and the Colombian Minister, amounted to a pledge by the latter in behalf of his own Government to promptly ratify such a treaty.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

Now it has developed that the ratification of the treaty is a long way off, owing to the fact that the Colombian Congress, before which the convention must come, has not even been elected up to this time. The delay is attributed to the existence of a state of war in Colombia, but it is now expected that the country soon will be so far pacified that a general election can be held and that the Congress can be assembled during the winter months.

BLAMED THEFT 'GRANNY' DWYER, ON HER CHUM, CENTURY WONDER

Anna Budner Says Bessie Schieff Told Her to Hide the Money in Her Stocking and Have a Good Time.

THEN SHE WAS ARRESTED.

Evidence Shows that Bessie's Mother Had Lost $1,000 in Few Days and that Girl Had Been Spending Money Lavishly.

Assistant Superintendent Agnew, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, says he may look into the case of Bessie Schieff, No. 14 Ridge street, who accused Anna Budner of theft before Magistrate Olmsted. Anna said in court that Bessie gave her a package containing $19 in marked bills and then had her arrested for stealing it.

Anna, who is fourteen years old and lives at No. 135 Ridge street, is a daughter of a wealthy real estate operator. According to her story Bessie Schieff went to her house and asked her if she would not go home with her. Bessie seemed to be in a great hurry, and when they arrived at the Schieff residence Anna says the other girl handed her a parcel, saying: "Hide it at once; put it in your stocking. We can have a good time with that money."

She did as she was told, only to find herself under arrest a few minutes later. She admitted that the money was found in her possession.

Mrs. Schieff's version of the case is that Anna came to the house Wednesday and that Bessie saw her take something from a drawer and put it in her stocking. She had the girl arrested.

In court witness after witness was introduced to show that Miss Schieff, whose mother says she has missed $1,000 in the last few days, had been prodigal in her expenditures. It was testified that she bought costly presents for her friends, that she gave theatre parties at the Knickerbocker Theatre in boxes which cost $50; that she purchased a diamond ring for a young man, paying $100, and that in many other ways she was freely spending money.

As a result, Magistrate Olmsted dismissed the case against the Budner girl for lack of evidence and with the remark:

"These are strange things in a child's court."

At the same time he glanced significantly at Mr. Agnew, who was present.

Prominent Bookman Dead.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—George C. McWhorter died here to-day, aged thirty years. He was president of the Oswego City Library, a prominent Episcopal layman and author of books on ecclesiastical subjects.

OSWEGO, N.